

Sam Mendenhall Discusses His Involvement With the Lawyers in the Classroom Program With the Chicago Daily Law Bulletin

JANUARY 8, 2020

Winston & Strawn Partner Sam Mendenhall was recently featured in the Chicago Daily Law Bulletin's article "Attorneys Take Skills to the Classroom." The article highlights The Edward J. Lewis II Lawyers in the Classroom Program and its recent transition to The Chicago Bar Association from the Constitutional Rights Foundation Chicago.

Sam, who is a Chicago public school alumnus and a participant in the program since 2013 said, "This program is extremely important to me and the legal community. For most of the students it is their first exposure to the law and I am the first lawyer they ever met. I became involved in the program as a way to give back."

View the full Chicago Daily Law Bulletin's article here.

Read more about Sam's involvement in Lawyers in the Classroom Program in this Winston for Good Spotlight Q&A here.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

Chicago

Related Regions

North America

Related Professionals

Samuel Mendenhall