

Winston & Strawn's AI Strategy Group Launch Covered in Multiple Media Outlets

JANUARY 26, 2024

Winston & Strawn recently announced the launch of its Artificial Intelligence \(AI\) Strategy Group. The group will be responsible for coordinating the full spectrum of transactional, litigation regulatory, and counseling services across industries as it relates to the adoption and regulation of artificial intelligence, with a particular focus on generative AI. The group also actively evaluates AI technologies for legal-specific use cases, and will define Winston's policies, procedures, and best practices.

"The rapid evolution in AI presents unique legal and technological challenges for companies across all industries," said partner John Rosenthal, chair of Winston's eDiscovery and Information Governance Practice, in the press release announcing the launch. "The group's collective experience brings to bear an intimate understanding of how to realize AI's promise while minimizing risks for our clients."

The launch has been covered by the following media outlets:

- "Winston & Strawn Launches Artificial Intelligence Strategy Group," Attorney At Law Magazine
- "Morning Lineup Newsletter," Chicago Daily Law Bulletin
- "Winston & Strawn Joins Long List Of Firms Forming AI Teams," Law360

1 Min Read

Related Capabilities

Artificial Intelligence (AI)

Related Professionals

John Rosenthal

Krishnan Padmanabhan