

Minnesota Passes Employment Legislation for Women

MAY 19, 2014

Minnesota Governor Mark Dayton has signed the Women's Economic Security Act (Act), designed to protect women in the workplace and remove various economic barriers. The Act seeks to close the gender pay gap, extends protection for women affected by pregnancy, nursing, childbirth, adds familial status as a protected class, expands family and sick leave, and provides incentives and grants for business and certain job opportunities for women.

Less Than 1 Min Read

Related Locations

Charlotte

Chicago

Houston

Los Angeles

New York

Paris

San Francisco

Shanghai

Washington, DC

Related Topics

Employment and Labor Law

Minnesota

Related Capabilities

Labor & Employment

Related Regions

Asia

Europe

North America

Related Professionals

Derek G. Barella

Shane Blackstone

Joan Fife

Deborah S.K. Jagoda

William G. Miossi

Laura Petroff

Michael Roche

Rex Sessions

Stephen Sheinfeld

Cardelle Spangler

William Sunkel

Emilie Woodhead