

Seth Farber Speaks at FTI Forensic & Litigation Consulting Series

MARCH 28, 2017

White Collar, Regulatory Defense & Investigations Practice Co-chair Seth Farber spoke at FTI Forensic & Litigation Consulting's "Ability to Pay," panel on March 28, 2017. The presentation explained the process for making arguments to the Department of Justice (DOJ) for a reduction in financial penalties due to a company's limited financial resources.

Seth's practice includes white collar criminal defense and corporate internal investigations, Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) investigations, securities litigation, civil RICO litigation, corporate governance litigation, and litigation associated with mergers and acquisitions. He recently represented a major multinational corporation which successfully negotiated a substantial reduction of its criminal fine on the basis of its demonstrated inability-to-pay.
