

Market Highs and Political Lows—Capital Raising in a Post-Factual World

JUNE 28, 2017

Winston & Strawn hosted “Market Highs and Political Lows—Capital Raising in a Post-Factual World,” a roundtable lunch and two-panel discussion for asset managers and alternative asset investors on June 28, 2017 in Beverly Hills, California. The discussions explored the status of capital raising for emerging and established managers who seek to raise investment capital from institutional investors, seeders, and accelerators.

- A roundtable lunch provided attendees the opportunity to learn about cutting edge industry developments.
- The panels discussed the new regulatory environment and how investors and asset managers are reacting to the prospect of less regulatory oversight.
- Industry experts discussed market risks associated with inconsistent messaging from the new administration and how investors must balance the risks from a new investing environment.
- Speakers provided their experience and insights on how asset managers can distinguish themselves and find success in the new market dynamic.

Roundtable lunch with presentations by industry experts:

- Michael Weinberg, Protégé Partners: “The Future of Autonomous Learning Investment Strategies”
- Bryan Johnson, Managing Partner, Johnson & Company: “Beyond Performance—The Mechanics of Marketing and Economics of Raising Capital”
