

Dodd-Frank Act Session III: The New Enforcement Environment; International Regulatory Perspectives

AUGUST 6, 2010

Winston & Strawn presented a webinar titled “Dodd-Frank Act Session III: The New Enforcement Environment; International Regulatory Perspectives,” on Friday, August 6.

This practical webinar briefing was the third in a four–part series designed to help you navigate the complexities of the Dodd–Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, with specific focus on the how the new legislation will alter the securities enforcement landscape. We also provided an update on what Asian regulators are doing to complement actions being taken here in the United States. The webinar provided attendees with the opportunity to learn the latest about the following hot button enforcement issues:

- The SEC’s enhanced ability to impose civil monetary penalties under Dodd-Frank
- Enhanced whistleblower protections and rewards
- Expansion of secondary liability and increased enforcement of U.S. securities laws abroad
- Enhancement of consumer financial protections and enforcement
- Enforcement priorities and activities in Asia

Webinar series host Steve D’Amore led the interactive webinar focused on what you need to know now about the new enforcement environment in the post Dodd-Frank world, and how you can prepare your business to meet these latest challenges.

A webinar is a complimentary, interactive seminar where participants watch and listen to a presentation given by Winston & Strawn attorneys over the Internet.

Clients and friends of the firm are invited to attend seminars and events. We reserve the right to limit attendance at any firm event.

NOTE: CLE credit is not available for listening to our pre-recorded eLunch or webinar briefings.
