

Winston & Strawn LLP Announces New Litigation Department Leadership

FEBRUARY 3, 2015

New Appointments Underscore Commitment to Legal Excellence and Exceptional Client Service

CHICAGO, IL (February 3, 2015) – Winston & Strawn LLP announced today that Chicago partners George Lombardi and Steve D’Amore have been named co-chairs of the firm’s 400-lawyer litigation practice.

“George and Steve are outstanding litigators and trial lawyers with well-deserved reputations for providing exceptional client service,” said Dan Webb, firm chairman. “They have demonstrated outstanding commitment to teamwork, transparency, and a passionate commitment to legal excellence and client service.”

Mr. Lombardi and Mr. D’Amore have extensive track records of success as trial lawyers and a long history of firm leadership in various roles. Mr. Lombardi is a nationally recognized litigator and trial lawyer with more than 30 years of experience handling bet-the-company cases across a broad range of industries. Most recently, Mr. Lombardi was recognized as a “Litigator of the Year” in 2014 by The American Lawyer. Mr. D’Amore, a 20-year veteran of Winston & Strawn, is an accomplished litigator and trial lawyer with extensive courtroom experience throughout the country in high-stakes business cases. Mr. D’Amore is a recent recipient of BTI’s Client Service All-Stars award.

“Winston & Strawn has long been known as a trial lawyers’ firm, featuring an exceptional group of litigators whose singular focus is to advance our clients’ best interests in resolving their critical disputes. Our lawyers are equally adept at achieving timely and efficient resolutions short of trial as they are at zealously representing our clients in the courtroom. George and Steve embody this tradition of excellence, and their leadership will serve the firm well as we continue to expand our service to clients across the country and across the world,” said Tom Fitzgerald, Winston & Strawn’s firmwide Managing Partner.

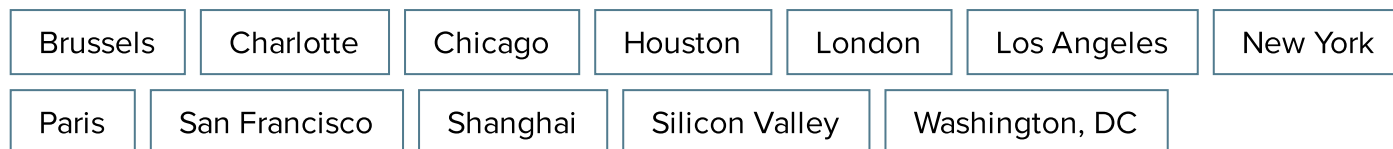

Within the litigation practice, the firm also announced the appointments of Washington, D.C. partner Chuck Klein as chair of its Complex Commercial Litigation practice, Silicon Valley partner David Enzminger and Chicago partner Mike Brody as co-chairs of the Intellectual Property practice, Washington, D.C. partner Tom Jarvis as head of the ITC practice, and New York partner Seth Farber joins Robb Adkins as co-chair of the firm’s White Collar, Regulatory Defense, and Investigations practice.

These new leaders join Winston’s other global litigation department practice heads: Jeffrey Kessler (New York) – Antitrust/Competition; Linda Coberly (Chicago) – Appellate & Critical Motions; Brian Heidelberger (Chicago) –

Advertising, Marketing & Privacy; Neal Marder (Los Angeles) – Consumer Class Actions; Michael Elkin (New York) – Copyright, Entertainment & Digital Media; Liisa Thomas (Chicago) – Data Privacy & Data Security; John Rosenthal (Washington, D.C.) – eDiscovery & Information Management; Tom Cottingham (Charlotte) – Financial Services Litigation; Mark Bravin (Washington, D.C.) and Joe Tirado (London) – International Arbitration; Caryn Jacobs (Chicago) – Professional Liability; Tom Quigley (New York) – Products Liability; Jim Smith (New York) – Securities Litigation; Jeffrey Kessler (New York) and David Feher (New York) – Sports Law; and Paul McGrady (Chicago) – Trademark, Domain Names & Brand Enforcement.

2 Min Read

Related Locations

Related Capabilities

Related Regions

Related Professionals

George Lombardi

Steve D'Amore

Dan Webb

Charles B. Klein

David Enzminger

Thomas Lewis Jarvis

Seth Farber

Jeffrey Kessler

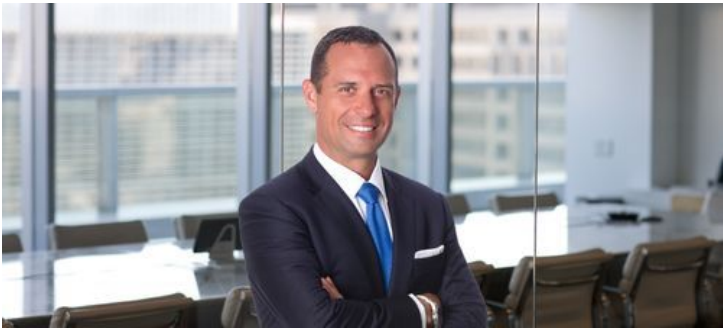

Linda Coberly

Michael Elkin

John Rosenthal

James P. Smith III

David Feher