

Aldo Badini Speaks at NYIAC Talks: Fresh Ideas, Urgent Concerns

OCTOBER 24, 2018

Winston & Strawn Partner Aldo Badini spoke at the New York International Arbitration Center's NYIAC Talks: Fresh Ideas, Urgent Concerns on November 1. This program included various panels discussing diversity and artificial intelligence.

Aldo spoke on a panel titled, "What Can Arbitrators and Practitioners Do?" This panel explored the sensitive and interrelated issues of diversity, inclusiveness, and bias in its various forms.

Aldo is a first-chair trial lawyer with over 30 years of experience. His arbitration experience includes the arguing of arbitrability appeals in various U.S. Courts of Appeals, and conducting arbitrations before the CPR Institute for Dispute Resolution and the International Centre for the Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID).
