

Steve Stodghill Honored by the Business Council for the Arts

NOVEMBER 16, 2018

Winston & Strawn Dallas-based Litigation Partner Steve Stodghill and his wife, Anne, were presented with the Juror's Award for their lifetime advancement of the arts by the Business Council for the Arts at the 2018 Obelisk Awards. The Obelisk Awards recognize companies and individuals whose contributions and achievements in the arts have made a profound impact in North Texas. Instrumental in promoting the growth of the Dallas Film Society, the organization presented its inaugural Stodghill Award earlier this year to recognize individuals for their long-term efforts on behalf of the art of film.

Steve was honored with the Anti-Defamation League's \(ADL\) Larry Schoenbrun Award for his outstanding leadership, exemplary contributions to the legal community, and a commitment to the ideals of the ADL the day before the Obelisk Awards.
