

Winston Launches Global Trade & Foreign Policy Insights

JULY 17, 2019

Winston & Strawn is pleased to announce the launch of our blog covering global trade & foreign policy. We stay abreast of rapidly evolving U.S. foreign policy and discuss its effect on cross-border trade. Our topics will include economic sanctions, export controls, trade and import regulations, anti-money laundering, and anti-corruption developments.

Our blog addresses the impact of these changes on financial services, supply chains, manufacturing, and compliance practices across industries. We also cover the international community's response to U.S. foreign policy.
