

Welcome to the Direct Sellers Update: Regulation, Law & Policy Blog

OCTOBER 3, 2019

We are pleased to announce the launch of our blog covering regulatory, legal, and policy issues affecting direct sellers. Our goal is to bring important legal, regulatory, and policy developments and updates straight to you.

Our blog addresses a wide range of issues, including the latest developments in class action, pyramid-scheme litigation, Federal Trade Commission enforcement actions and guidance, policy and legislative changes, and independent contractor classification. We also address emerging compliance trends and best practices for complying with those trends, such as the latest on compensation plan, policy and procedure, and income and lifestyle claim compliance.
