

Sean Wieber Shares Cybersecurity and Privacy Predictions for 2020 with Law360

JANUARY 1, 2020

Winston & Strawn Litigation Partner Sean Wieber shared in Law360 his predictions for cybersecurity and privacy in 2020, focusing on the uptick in insurance disputes involving coverage for claims arising from Illinois' Biometric Information Privacy Act (BIPA).

Commenting on the uptick, Sean said, "In 2020, we're likely to see insurance carriers start to be even more aggressive in terms of implementing greater exceptions or increasing premiums significantly in order for companies to be protected specifically from biometric claims."

For more insight on other cybersecurity and privacy predictions, read the full Law360 article here. (Subscription required)

To learn more about Winston's cross-practice approach to addressing challenges posed by TCPA, BIPA, CCPA, and other pending state laws, visit our Regulated Personal Information page.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

Chicago

Related Topics

Regulated Personal Information (RPI)

Biometric Information

Biometrics

Related Capabilities

Litigation/Trials

Commercial Litigation & Disputes

Related Regions

North America

Related Professionals

---

Sean G. Wieber