

Texas Lawyer Features Eric Johnson's and Michael Blankenship's Move to Winston & Strawn

JANUARY 24, 2020

New Houston Corporate Partners Eric Johnson and Michael Blankenship discuss their move to Winston & Strawn with Texas Lawyer.

In the article, Eric explains that he and Michael were looking for a firm with a strong commitment to Texas. They also wanted to find a firm with a culture that would fit with their energy clients, the majority of which are in the oil and gas industries. According to Eric, Winston & Strawn was the clear choice. In addition to working with the Houston team, Eric mentioned that they are also looking forward to working with the firm's capital markets teams in the New York and Chicago offices.

Managing Partner of the Houston office, said Eric and Michael fit with Winston & Strawn's goal to grow its M&A and capital markets practice in Houston.
