

National Law Journal Names Jeffrey Kessler and Abbe Lowell 2020 Winning Litigators

SEPTEMBER 1, 2020

Winston & Strawn Co-Executive Chairman & Co-Chair, Antitrust/Competition & Sports Law Practices Jeffrey Kessler and Co-Chair, White Collar, Regulatory Defense, and Investigations Practice Abbe Lowell are two of only twenty-six attorneys recognized as 2020 NLJ Winning Litigators. This annual report highlights star litigators who scored significant victories on behalf of their clients in high-stakes matters and the attorney’s track record over her/his career.

Jeffrey is recognized for his work with the athlete classes in Alston v. NCAA, the antitrust class action challenge against NCAA rules restricting conferences/schools from compensating athletes for the multibillion-dollar revenue streams they generate.

Abbe is recognized for achieving final acquittal for former Puerto Rico State Sen. Hector Martinez after nine years—including two jury trials, three circuit appeals, and a U.S. Supreme Court decision—by following a “fight-for-every-inch-of-the-battlefield” strategy.

Read more of Jeffrey and Abbe’s profiles, including trial tips that have been key to their successes, here.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

New York

Washington, DC

Related Capabilities

Antitrust/Competition

Litigation/Trials

Government Investigations, Enforcement & Compliance

Sports

Related Regions

North America

Latin America & Caribbean

Related Professionals

---

Jeffrey Kessler

Abbe David Lowell