

Fraud and Abuse Issues in Health Care Services Transactions

DECEMBER 16, 2020

Given a very active deal market for health care services, businesses in the industry have become a regular target for fraud and abuse allegations. On December 16, during the third episode in our webinar series, we explored the most prevalent fraud and abuse issues in health care services transactions—as well as some important topics that may fly under the radar.

The discussion covered major issues involving the False Claims Act (FCA), the anti-kickback prohibitions, and self-referral prohibitions, among other areas.
