

Counseling and Compliance: The Role of the GC in PE

FEBRUARY 8, 2021

On February 8, Winston & Strawn hosted an informative webinar in which women chief compliance officers and general counsels discussed insights and lessons learned on the role of the GC in private equity, including:

- Facilitating communications, difficult conversations, and informed decision-making across the PE firm
- Supporting an evolving/expanding private equity business
- Balancing different roles and competing priorities
- Managing risk exposure in an increasingly complex regulatory landscape
- How women can be uniquely suited for the role

This webinar is a part of the “Correcting the Record: Yes, Women Want to Form Their Own Private Equity Firms,” which was sparked by a Forbes article that claimed women do not want to form their own PE firms because of the gender pay gap.

MODERATORS

Jennifer Kurtis - Winston & Strawn
Christina Tate - Winston & Strawn

PANELISTS

Teresa Bernstein - ACON Investments
Catherine Mandell - Argand Partners
Michelle Riley - Bregal Investments

Listen to the presentation here.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

Dallas

New York

Related Capabilities

Transactions

Private Equity

Related Regions

North America

Related Professionals

Jennifer Kurtis

Christina Tate