

What To Watch As COVID-19 Cash Crunch Fuels Hospital M&A

MAY 15, 2020

Hospitals desperate to steady themselves after being buffeted by COVID-19's financial shockwave are likely in coming months to seriously consider mergers and acquisitions, but lawmakers are already pushing back and antitrust enforcers will probably be skeptical. Former Co-Chair of the firm's Health Care & Life Sciences Industry Group, discusses key issues to keep an eye on with Law360.

Read the article here.

Listen to our recent webinar, Health Care and Life Sciences Deals in a Post-COVID-19 World, here.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

Chicago

Related Topics

COVID-19

Health Care

M&A

Related Capabilities

Litigation/Trials

Mergers & Acquisitions

Health Care