

Jeffrey Kessler and Cardelle Spangler Featured in HBO Documentary About the U.S. Women's National Soccer Team and Their Battle for Equal Pay

SEPTEMBER 3, 2021

On September 6, 2021, CNN Films and HBO Max aired a special broadcast of LFG, a documentary about the U.S. Women's National Soccer Team (USWNT) and their ongoing fight for equal compensation. The documentary follows the players and their multi-year class action pay discrimination suit against the U.S. Soccer Federation.

The players' Co-lead Counsels Jeffrey Kessler—Winston & Strawn's co-executive chairman—and Partner Cardelle Spangler are both featured in the documentary. The pair provide an overview of the players' legal case for equity and analyze developments as the case evolves.

The documented experiences of the USWNT players highlight the sacrifices and dedication of these elite athletes as they lead the fight for equal pay—the film also underscores the impact of their work and activism on their personal lives.

You can watch the film today on HBO Max and view the official trailer here.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

Chicago

New York

Related Capabilities

Sports

Related Regions

North America

Related Professionals

Jeffrey Kessler

Cardelle Spangler