

Houston Managing Partner Mike Blankenship Discusses ESG Financing in Hart Energy

OCTOBER 25, 2021

As major financial institutions continue to commit large investments in ESG initiatives and ESG funds outperform on the S&P 500 Index, Houston Managing Partner Mike Blankenship says there will likely be explosive growth within the ESG sector in the coming years.

His article “ESG Financing: Where is the Money Going?” was featured in the global energy news outlet Hart Energy and addresses the boom in ESG-focused investing, challenges the SEC faces as they begin to consider formal disclosure requirements, and why institutional lenders are focusing on ‘sustainable finance.’
