

Partner Ian Borman Discusses ESG Principles in Private Equity Market

OCTOBER 28, 2021

Winston & Strawn Partner Ian Borman sat down with Refinitiv, a London-based financial services firm, to share his thoughts on the growing interest in environmental, social, and governance (ESG) principles in the private equity market following the first sustainability-linked loan to fund a private equity investment.

While already popular in Europe, ESG loans in the U.S. have been adopted at a significantly lower rate. However—there is an expectation that more deals could follow.

Read the full article here (subscription required).

Less Than 1 Min Read

Related Locations

London

Related Topics

Environmental, Social & Governance (ESG)

Private Equity

Sustainability

Related Capabilities

Private Equity

Related Regions

Europe

Related Professionals

Ian Borman