

Winston Partners With Sport Resolutions to Discuss NCAA Antitrust Case and Transgender Athletes' Rights

DECEMBER 7, 2021

Winston & Strawn is delighted to be partnering with Sport Resolutions for an online seminar. The first session will focus on a review of the NCAA Scholarship antitrust lawsuit by Jeffrey Kessler, Co-Executive Chair of Winston & Strawn LLP and the lead counsel representing college athletes in the recent unanimous Supreme Court victory. Jeffrey will outline the issues and findings of the case and will assess its relevance in other sports, countries, and jurisdictions.

In the second session, a panel of speakers will discuss transgender athletes' rights from different perspectives including human rights, legal, scientific, and sociological.

Each discussion will have a Q&A session and will be chaired by respected sports presenter, Jason Mohammad. The webinar will start at 2 p.m. UK time to accommodate different time zones.

Learn more and register here.

Learn more about Winston's award-winning Sports Law Practice here.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

London

New York

Related Capabilities

Sports

Related Regions

North America

Europe

Related Professionals

Jeffrey Kessler