

Eva Davis Discusses U.S. M&A Activity Abroad in Law360

JUNE 27, 2022

Winston & Strawn Partner Eva Davis was featured in Law360 where she discussed the effects of the Russian war on U.S. M&A activity in the United Kingdom and Europe.

Challenges surrounding sanctions, inflation, rising interest rates, and a strained supply chain have been exacerbated by Russia's invasion of Ukraine, resulting in greater uncertainties within the M&A market. "There might be some companies that are going to be more materially affected because of global supply and demand," Eva said. "A target [business] may be heavily reliant on energy, for example, or industrial metals like aluminum, nickel, and copper. A meaningful portion of the world's supply for those items comes from Russia and Ukraine, so there's pressure on the overall availability of those materials."

Read the full article here.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

Los Angeles

Related Topics

M&A

International Mergers and Acquisitions

Supply Chain

Russia

Ukraine

Related Capabilities

Mergers & Acquisitions

Transactions

Energy

Related Regions

North America

Europe

Related Professionals

Eva Davis