

Susannah Torpey Named to Women We Admire's Top 50 Women Leaders in Technology of 2022

OCTOBER 13, 2022

Winston & Strawn Partner Susannah Torpey has been named to the Top 50 Women Leaders in Technology of 2022 list in Women We Admire. Awardees were chosen based on the impact of their leadership positions at large global technology firms and departments, their mentorship to future women leaders in the industry, and for being advocates for advancements in the industry.

Litigation Partner and Co-Chair of Winston's Technology Antitrust Group, Susannah is the only lawyer named to the list. With nearly 20 years of experience, she has represented and counseled clients in a variety of industries, including the: high-tech; artificial intelligence; blockchain; fintech; internet; web app; IoT; ecommerce and data platform; wireless connectivity (2G-5G); semiconductors and next-gen memory products; computer products; open source software, VoIP; electronic trading, patent aggregation and licensing; pharmaceutical; biotech; publishing; professional sports; international trade; consulting; and financial services industries.

See the full list of awardees.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

New York

Related Topics

Artificial Intelligence (AI)

FinTech

Patent

Technology Antitrust

Related Capabilities

Antitrust/Competition

Intellectual Property

Technology Antitrust

Technology, Media & Telecommunications

Artificial Intelligence (AI)

Related Regions

North America

Related Professionals

Susannah Torpey