

Amber Goodenough

Director
Docket

Chicago
+1 312-558-7582

As Director of Docket, Amber leads all aspects of the firm's centralized litigation and intellectual property docketing, including creation and implementation of calendaring best practices, oversight of the electronic filing process to ensure timely and compliant filings, training, and court resource management.

Amber has held several roles supporting various aspects of the Docket Department since joining in 2007. During her tenure at the firm, she has fostered key partnerships with Business Development, Collective Intelligence and Research, and Information Services to find innovative ways to leverage her team's contributions to align with the firm's strategic goals.

Activities

Amber is an Officer of the National Docketing Association Board of Directors serving as Secretary. She is also Co-Chair of the organization's Membership Committee. From 2016-2022, Amber served as a Board Member of the Literassociates, the associate board of the Chicago Literacy Alliance.

Credentials

EDUCATION

Amber received her B.S. in Legal Studies from the University of Wisconsin – Madison in 2007 and earned her J.D. in 2014 from the University of Illinois Chicago School of Law (UIC Law), formerly known as the John Marshall Law School.

Amber is a licensed attorney in the state of Illinois.