

California Independent Contractor Class Action for Luxury Spirits Brand

MAY 2, 2018

We represented a spirits company in a putative class action alleging that it and its outside brand promotion agency misclassified certain brand promotional workers as independent contractors in violation of California law. Following substantial discovery, the matter settled on favorable terms.

Less Than 1 Min Read

Related Capabilities

Labor & Employment

Food & Beverage

Related Professionals

Kara E. Cooper

