Meredith focuses her practice on health care law, including transactional, regulatory, and compliance matters. She serves principally as counsel to private equity and other financial investors, public and private companies, hospitals and health systems, ambulatory surgery centers, hospice providers, home health agencies, dental practices, and physician group practices in various health care transactions, including mergers, acquisitions, joint ventures, and other collaborative and alignment strategies.

Meredith brings significant corporate and health care regulatory experience to transactions and advises with respect to transaction structure and documents, health care regulatory notifications and consents, and due diligence.

Additionally, Meredith advises clients with respect to fraud and abuse laws, including the Stark Law, state and federal anti-kickback laws, billing compliance, and state and federal privacy laws. She assists health care clients with internal investigations, analyzing potential self-disclosures, and developing compliance programs.
