Winston Sponsors, Bryce Cooper and Matt Saxon Speak at ACI Drug & Medical Device Conference

DECEMBER 3, 2024 - DECEMBER 4, 2024

Winston & Strawn partners Bryce Cooper and Matt Saxon presented during ACI's 29th Annual Drug & Medical Device Litigation Conference in New York on December 3–4, 2024.

Winston is an annual sponsor of the premier event, bringing together over 400+ defense practitioners from leading drug and medical device companies to explore the latest trends and changing landscape of product and mass torts litigation.

Bryce Cooper presented on December 3 at 12 p.m. EST on “Decoding Novel Cases: Key Insights from Groundbreaking Rulings in Gilead, BMS, Bartlett, and More.” This panel discussed key cases and rulings shaping drug and medical device litigation, focusing on innovative plaintiff theories, duty to innovate, failure to warn, and design defect elements.

Matt Saxon spoke on December 3 at 3:45 p.m. EST on “Defeating Reptile Theory: Early Strategies to Control Your Case.” This session explored strategies to identify, counter, and neutralize plaintiff’s “reptilian strategy” in litigation through early case assessment, discovery tactics, motions, and jury selection.
