Calvin is a litigator with unique insights, drawn from his prior career as a classical musician. He has a strong background in copyright and trademarks and an interest in international law. Calvin focuses his practice on a broad range of litigation matters.

Since joining the firm, Calvin has gained experience across a broad array of matters including second-chairing multiple depositions in a pharmaceutical antitrust case, drafting housing petitions and licensing contracts for pro bono clients, and shadowing negotiations at the National Basketball Players Association.

Prior to joining the firm, he was a Legal Fellow at Volunteer Lawyers for the Arts in New York City, where he assisted artists with legal issues, including performing a free-use analysis of an off-Broadway musical and negotiating contracts for influencers. In 2023, Calvin worked in Geneva, Switzerland, as an International Fellow for the World Intellectual Property Organization. In 2022, Calvin was a 1L Diversity Fellow and summer associate for a mid-sized law firm in Portland, Oregon. There, he supported ongoing civil cases with a focus on commercial litigation, copyright infringement, Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, and class action certification.
