

Partner Kathi Vidal Speaks at the 2025 American Conference Institute's Women Leaders in IP Conference

JUNE 3, 2025

Partner Kathi Vidal spoke at the 2025 American Conference Institute's Women Leaders in IP Conference in Washington, D.C. on June 3-4, 2025.

At the 5th annual summit, Kathi Vidal spoke on a panel and shared her insights as the former USPTO director on the future of IP and another panel discussing essential IP cases attorneys should know in 2025. Each year, the conference brings together women leaders in the intellectual property space with the goal of elevating women in IP through leadership, legal insights, and meaningful connections.

This year's conference addressed the rapidly evolving IP landscape, including:

- IP protections for AI inventions
- Safeguarding trade secrets
- The IP connection to CFIUS
- Copyrights and Fair Use in the Digital Age
- The Intersection of data and IP
