

Newly Public Companies: How to Thrive After Ringing the Bell

JULY 17, 2025

Going public is a major milestone, but it is only the beginning. Newly public companies must quickly adapt to a dynamic environment defined by regulatory obligations, market scrutiny, and constant stakeholder expectations. Join us for a timely webinar as our panel of industry leaders explores how companies can successfully navigate life after the IPO.

We will cover essential legal and strategic priorities that every public company must consider.

Discussion topics will include:

- Regulatory Compliance: How to meet SEC, stock exchange, and industry requirements while building investor confidence.
- Capital Optimization: Strategies for capital allocation, financing trends, and balancing growth, liquidity, and shareholder returns.
- Contingency Planning: Preparing for market volatility, cyber threats, leadership transitions, and other post-IPO challenges.

Do not miss this in-depth conversation on how to position your company for long-term success in the public markets.
