

Laurens Wilkes Featured on ENR Critical Path Podcast

FEBRUARY 24, 2026

Winston & Strawn partner Laurens Wilkes, Chair of the firm's Infrastructure & Projects – Global Disputes Practice, was featured on the ENR Critical Path Podcast, where he discussed strategies for reducing disputes and managing risk in complex infrastructure projects.

During the episode, Laurens shared his professional background and the path that led him to the construction and infrastructure sectors. He also explored collaborative delivery models that provide better insights and enable parties to allocate risk more effectively, the cultural challenges that can arise in global infrastructure projects, the use of artificial intelligence in mitigating risk and preventing disputes, and more.

Hosted by Engineering News-Record, the Critical Path Podcast delivers perspectives from industry leaders on today's infrastructure and construction challenges and developments.

Listen to the full episode.

1 Min Read

Related Capabilities

Infrastructure

Construction

Related Professionals

J. Laurens Wilkes