

Anne Murray and Guy Singer Join Winston in White Collar & Government Investigations Practice

APRIL 15, 2026

Winston & Strawn recently announced that Anne Murray and Guy Singer joined the firm's Washington, D.C. and New York offices respectively as partners in the Litigation Department. The two bring invaluable white collar defense, corporate investigations, and compliance experience to the firm's White Collar & Government Investigations Practice. Both are seasoned white-collar defense and compliance attorneys, who represent companies and individuals in matters involving fraud, bribery, corruption, and ethics issues.

"We are honored to join this distinguished team of white-collar practitioners and litigators," Anne and Guy said in the press release announcing their arrival. "Winston has long been a leader in corporate litigation, and we look forward to harnessing the firm's existing capabilities, along with our cross-border experience, to deliver the best possible results for our clients."

"We're pleased to welcome Anne and Guy to the firm," said White Collar & Government Investigations Co-Chairs Suzanne Jaffe Bloom and Marc Krickbaum. "Their deep experience with significant fraud investigations, anti-corruption enforcement, and compliance is a critical addition for our team as companies navigate heightened enforcement and corruption risk while maintaining business continuity across borders."
