

Matthew Huppert Featured in FTCWatch

APRIL 16, 2026

Winston & Strawn partner Matthew Huppert was featured in FTCWatch discussing his decision to join Winston, his experience at the Department of Justice, and his path to antitrust law.

“Winston is a well-regarded litigation shop. Its antitrust and competition group are second to none in terms of the breadth of their experience,” he said. “We represent both plaintiffs and defendants and have an interesting practice.”

The article also highlights Matt’s background, including his clerkships for U.S. District Judge Beryl Howell and Circuit Judge Judith Rogers in Washington, D.C., and his early experience as a general litigator, where he worked on several antitrust cases, coinciding with his interest in economics.

Read the full article.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

Washington, DC

Related Capabilities

Antitrust/Competition

Related Professionals

Matt Huppert