

IP Enforcement at the U.S. International Trade Commission

MAY 27, 2016

Winston & Strawn LLP, Cornerstone Intellectual Property Foundation, and Licensing Executives Society – Chinese Taipei hosted an executive summit discussion of using IP enforcement at the U.S. International Trade Commission to gain a worldwide strategic advantage on May 27, 2016, in Taipei.

The program featured skilled Taiwanese and U.S. intellectual property professionals who have hands-on experience at the cutting edge of IP enforcement before the ITC and U.S. district courts.

Specific program topics for the morning session included:

- IP Challenges Faced by Taiwanese Companies
- Case Studies on Using IP to Gain Competitive Advantage
- Roundtable Discussion on How Global Companies Are Using IP Assets
- IP in a Recessionary Environment
- Patent Exhaustion in the Global Economy
- Inequitable Conduct in Patent Cases

Lunch featured a presentation on business case and financial analysis of IP litigation.

Specific program topics for the afternoon session included:

- Role of ITC Investigations in Global IP Disputes
- IP Rights & Enforcement After the Alice Decision
- How Taiwanese Companies Establish a U.S. Domestic Industry for ITC Litigation
- ITC Options for Taiwanese Companies
- Internet of Things: New Technology Requiring New IP Protection & Enforcement
- U.S. District Court Strategy and Integrating ITC and IPR Proceedings

- Tools for Managing the Speed and Complexity of ITC Cases
- Looking Forward: How Global IP Assets Will Fit Into Corporate Strategy for the Next Five Years

Contact Winston & Strawn for more details, including registration information.

By invitation only, seating limited, registration required.

1 Min Read

Related Locations

Los Angeles

Silicon Valley

Washington, DC

Related Capabilities

ITC – Section 337

Patent Litigation

IP Licensing & Due Diligence

Technology, Media & Telecommunications

Related Professionals

David Enzminger

Gino Cheng