

Scott Cohen Presents International eDiscovery Webinar

JUNE 24, 2014

Winston & Strawn director of eDiscovery support services Scott Cohen presented a webcast titled “International eDiscovery: Data Protection, Privacy & Cross-Border Issues” on June 24, 2014. The webcast was hosted by InsideCounsel and included several panelists, of which Mr. Cohen was the only non-lawyer. The discussion focused on the practical aspects of international eDiscovery.

Specific topics covered in the webcast include:

- How to anticipate jurisdictional restrictions
- New ways to lower the time and expenses involved
- The advantages of timely communication with the court or regulator
- Alternative approaches, including how to avoid the “undue burden” charge

Based in Winston & Strawn’s New York office, Mr. Cohen is responsible for all aspects of the firm’s litigation support technology, electronic discovery operations, and document review center management. Throughout his career, Mr. Cohen has worked in a consultative capacity with law firms and corporate legal departments enabling them to effectively leverage technology in all legal practice areas.
