

Scott Cohen Presents In-house Counsel's Guide to eDiscovery

SEPTEMBER 30, 2014

Winston & Strawn director of eDiscovery support services Scott Cohen spoke at PLI's Electronic Discovery Institute 2014 on September 30, 2014. The program was held in New York City and was available via live webcast.

As demands and costs of eDiscovery in litigation continue to grow, this seminar provided critical information on the latest developments in the law governing this area, including how to conduct efficient and defensible eDiscovery, as well as sanctions imposed by violations and how to avoid them.

Mr. Cohen presented "Annual Update of In-house Counsel's Guide to eDiscovery: Everything You Need to Know." This session addressed:

- Implications on draft federal rules on corporate best practices
- Possession, custody, and control – implications of cloud computing
- Toolsets designed for corporations
- Manager services coming of age
- Social media's impact on corporate eDiscovery practices
- Predictive coding – does it really change anything?
