

Winston Sponsors & Speaks at Private Debt European Forum

MAY 30, 2017

Winston & Strawn sponsored the Private Debt European Forum in Paris, Europe's longest running private debt event. London-based Partner Ian Borman also spoke at the conference. He participated in the panel titled "The Position of Debt Funds in Today's Lending Markets: What does the Future Hold for the Asset Class?" This session addressed:

- The future for private debt providers
- Will we see continued growth and competition in the market?
 - The impact of increased competition on the debt fund market
- How are lending products evolving?
 - What new products will be offered?
- With large dry powder reserves, will debt funds take on riskier deals?
- How is the investor profile developing as the asset class comes of age?

Ian advises on international finance transactions including acquisition finance, bid financing, and structured real estate financing. His practice includes the full range of debt financing and structured transactions including junior debt, restructuring, and secondary transactions.
