Winston & Strawn Sponsors 22nd Annual Business Conference on Diversity

OCTOBER 5-6, 2011

Winston & Strawn sponsored the California Minority Counsel Program's (CMCP) 22nd Annual Business Conference held October 5-6, 2011 in Los Angeles.

An associate in the firm's corporate department moderated the panel "New Beginnings – Transitioning From Large Firm Practice." This panel discussed key considerations in career transitions from large law firms to other types of law practice. Specifically, panelists addressed:

- Tips for deciding whether a career change is right for you
- Is there ever a good time to make a change?
- Steps to managing your transition to your benefit
- Strategies for successfully adapting to your new environment
- What happens when change doesn't meet expectations?
- Recognizing & capitalizing on unexpected benefits from a transition

Other topics presented at this conference included:

- Cultivating a Beautiful Legacy: The No Bosses Allowed Lunch
- Does Tweeting Beat Meeting? - The Ethics of Social Networking
- Wrongdoing in the Workplace - Internal Investigations from Employment to White Collar
- All Rise: Advocacy in Action
- From the Desk of the General Counsel

Amanda Groves, chair of the firm's diversity committee, and Laura Petroff attended this event on behalf of Winston & Strawn.
