

David and Junewicz Discuss Corporate Governance and Securities Compliance

OCTOBER 13, 2010

Winston & Strawn partners Oscar David and Jim Junewicz participated in the LexisNexis® Martindale-Hubbell® Counsel to Counsel networking and dialogue session held October 13 in Chicago. Their presentation entitled, “Balancing Strategy, Success & Risk: Corporate Governance and Securities Compliance in a Time of Increased Scrutiny and Fast-Paced Change,” focused on the following topics:

- Taking a fresh look at the role of general counsel and its relationship to executives, boards and beyond
- Examining legal risk and more: tools, planning and processes for effective ongoing enterprise risk management
- Managing the impact of new rules, requirements and proposals: from building and structuring the board to shareholder communications and more
- Handling analyses and disclosures, especially relating to compensation

Kent Zimmermann of Zeughauser Group facilitated the session.

Mr. David, based in the Chicago office, is co-chair of the firm’s mergers and acquisitions, securities & corporate governance practice. Mr. Junewicz is a partner in the firm’s Chicago and New York offices who focuses his practice on securities offerings and mergers and acquisitions.
