With more than 30 years of trial and appellate experience, Bill represents employers in labor and employment cases before federal and state courts throughout the United States, as well as employment-related regulatory agencies. Bill was named a 2017 “Client Service All-Star” by BTI.

In addition to his experience in federal and state court, Bill represents clients before the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB), Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), U.S. Department of Labor, Occupational and Safety Health Administration (OSHA), arbitrators, and other state employment boards and regulatory agencies. He has experience advising employers in a wide range of industries, including energy, manufacturing, logistics, financial services and banking, food and beverage, health care, aerospace, maritime, and construction.

Bill’s extensive experience representing employers in class actions and individual cases covers issues concerning: (1) employment discrimination, whistleblower/retaliation claims, ERISA, FLSA/wage and hour claims, disability, and FMLA claims; (2) enforcement of noncompetition agreements and trade secret misappropriation; (3) multi-employer pension plan withdrawal liability claims; and (4) unfair labor practice and representation investigations and cases before the NLRB. His labor practice also includes union contract negotiations, strike contingency planning and strike misconduct injunctions, labor arbitrations, and maintenance of union free status campaigns. Bill also provides labor and employment counsel in connection with business restructurings, acquisitions, sales, mergers, and reductions-in-force.
