Practicing for over 30 years, Chuck has extensive experience acting as lead bank counsel, as well as borrower's counsel, for the structuring of credit facilities, and is recognized as one of Chicago's top banking and finance lawyers by Chambers USA.

Chuck concentrates his practice in the representation of borrowers and leading commercial and investment banks in leveraged finance transactions. His extensive experience includes acting as lead bank counsel, as well as borrower's counsel, for the structuring of credit facilities, including: complex international lending transactions; acquisition and going-private transactions; refinancings and repricings; and restructuring and workout transactions. Chuck has represented lenders and borrowers in a variety of credit structures, including second lien and subordinated credits.

He has represented leading financial institutions such as: BMO Harris Financial; Deutsche Bank; Bank of America; American Capital Strategies; and Fifth Third Bank, as well as borrowers such as: Motorola; Lear Corporation; Federal Mogul Corporation; Groupon; Bucyrus International; Nuveen Investments; Hub International; X-Rite Incorporated; and World Kitchen. His ability to counsel clients in structuring and implementing financial arrangements is enhanced by his prior experience representing clients in merger, acquisition, and securities transactions and by his ongoing work as outside corporate counsel to several corporations.

Recent Experience

BMO Harris Bank N.A.'s US$100M Credit Facility for Q Biopharma Holdco, LLC
