

GDPR is Coming, Five Things You Can Do Now To Prepare

DECEMBER 13, 2017

Winston & Strawn's Global Privacy & Data Security Task Force presented "GDPR is Coming, Five Things You Can Do Now To Prepare." This webinar took place on December 13 at 12:15 p.m. Central.

The EU's General Data Protection Regulation \(GDPR\) takes effect on May 25, 2018. GDPR significantly increases the requirements imposed on companies touching the personal data of EU citizens, and also increases oversight by the EU member states' data protection authorities. And the consequences of non-compliance under GDPR are massive—the greater of €20 million or four percent of the company's worldwide turnover.

Peter Crowther led a discussion of the practical steps your business can take now to comply with the GDPR. He highlighted key areas of risk associated with the GDPR and identified business-focused steps to help manage those risks.
