

Winston Speaks at and Sponsors Thomson's 16th Annual LPC Loan Pricing Conference

SEPTEMBER 22, 2010

Winston & Strawn partners Michael Mullins and Kent Walker spoke during the 16th Annual Thomson Reuters LPC Loan Conference, titled: You Say You Want an Evolution: Redefining the Loan Market, held September 22, 2010, in New York. Winston & Strawn also served as a sponsor for this event.

This industry-leading conference brought together more than 500 financial professionals, including key decision-makers and participants immersed in the commercial loan market.

Mr. Mullins and Mr. Walker's panel presentation entitled, "Regulatory Reform: Coming to a market near you!" focused on the following key topics:

- How does the proposed financial regulatory reform specifically address loans?
- What are the potential impacts and why is this revolutionary for the loan market?
- Could it upend the syndicated loan market?

Joining their panel was Meredith Coffey from the Loan Syndications and Trading Association.

Among the other topics discussed at the conference included:

- Recapping the Challenging Road to Recovery and What Might Lie Ahead
- Loan Market Supply & Demand Dynamics Now and 2011
- Investment Grade Loan Market - It's all good again, right?
- Leveraged Lending in 2010: Relative value considerations
- Tapping new investors: How do we market the loan asset class?
