

John Rosenthal Contributing Editor of 2018 Chambers eDiscovery & Disclosure Global Practice Guide

JANUARY 11, 2018

eDiscovery & Information Governance Practice Chair John Rosenthal served as contributing editor of the 2018 Chambers Global Guide of eDiscovery/eDisclosure, which provides expert legal commentary on key issues for businesses.

The United States and only a handful of other countries have adapted their legal systems—be it litigation, arbitration, or investigations—to require the discovery or disclosure of electronically stored information (ESI). The Guide is a general survey that identifies the extent to which 12 exemplar countries have adopted rules and procedures to address the discovery/disclosure of electronic evidence, either formally or informally, including rules/procedures around its preservation, production, and protection of privileged information within such ESI.
