

The Equal Rights Amendment: Legal Issues and Implications

MAY 1, 2018

In 2017, Nevada became the 36th state to ratify the ERA. This spring, Illinois could become the 37th. With one additional state ratification—and one more vote in Congress—our Constitution could finally guarantee equality to all people regardless of sex.

Winston & Strawn hosted a webinar titled “The Equal Rights Amendment: Legal Issues and Implications” on May 1, 2018 from 4:00-5:30 p.m. (CDT). The presentation was designed to answer recurring questions about the legal implications of the ratification effort, including why ratifying the ERA is still important and necessary, what the ERA would (and would not) accomplish, and why it is not too late.
