

The Real Deal Webinar Series: The Supreme Court and Your Business

JUNE 23, 2015

A Real Deal webinar titled “The Supreme Court and Your Business” was held on June 23, 2015.

The webinar featured a discussion of the Supreme Court’s current docket and how it may impact securities professionals. It was presented by Linda Coberly, former Supreme Court clerk and chair of the firm’s appellate and critical motions practice. Participants received both general and Professional Responsibility CLE credit.

This unique program combined information about trends at the Court and specific cases of interest to business, including a discussion about what securities professionals can learn from those cases. Of particular interest was the Court’s recent decision in Omnicare, which provides explicit guidance for issuers preparing securities offering disclosure documents and periodic reports. Ms. Coberly was one of the lawyers representing Omnicare before the Supreme Court.
